Welcome Message

Welcome to Jacksonville University. We are very pleased to have you join us! As a new staff member, you will be joining a team of dedicated employees who are committed to the University's mission of preparing students for life-long success in learning, achieving, leading and serving. You will play a vital role in helping JU accomplish this mission.

JU is an open, friendly, and inclusive place to work. We strive to provide each person with meaningful employment, career opportunities, excellent benefits and a superior working environment. Working together and finding creative solutions to problems can only strengthen us, so please feel free to offer new ideas, suggestions or comments.

Remember, the support you lend faculty and students on a daily basis helps maintain the JU tradition of a caring, personal, high-quality university. Recently, U. S. News & World Report ranked JU as one of the top schools in America. This honor, along with others we've received, is the direct result of collaboration and cooperation among staff, faculty and students. We have a lot to be proud of here at JU.

Just as our students grow and progress, we want all of our employees to thrive at JU. You are encouraged to take advantage of self-development activities, educational courses and the various campus events available to you.

For detailed information about the benefits and University policies and procedures, please refer to the Employee Handbook. Our program is based on respect for each individual, and recognizing that every member of the University community is important to achieving our mission and vision.

Again, welcome to our University family. We're proud to have you join us. Challenge yourself to be the best at what you do. And, above all, enjoy your employment at JU.

Sincerely,

Tim Cost
President
Jacksonville University

Dear Jacksonville University Employees,

We are thrilled to announce updates to the benefits package for all full-time Jacksonville University employees. We are staying with all the same carriers and keeping the same benefits with a few exceptions.

Key Updates:

- ◆ Medical Plans: All JU medical plans cover preventative care, including annual check-ups, immunizations, colonoscopies, and mammograms. There are some slight increases in the deductibles and out of pocket maximums for the High Deductible Health Plan (03160/03161) due to federal regulations. Mayo Clinic is now in-network in all three medical plans.
- ◆ Parental Leave: We are excited to continue the parent leave program for all full-time employees. JU will provide up to 6 weeks of salary at 100% of your base compensation in the event of the birth or adoption of a child. Parent leave can be taken within 6 months of the birth or adoption. Note that the Short Term Disability plan does offset for Parental Leave.
- ◆ Flexible Spending Accounts: We are moving our FSA plans to Medcom. The new healthcare FSA limit is $3,300 and the new Rollover limit will be $660. Your 2024 rollover dollars will remain with Ameriflex for 90 days to allow for any claim filing for reimbursement. You will have 90 days after the end of the current plan year to file for reimbursement for eligible services incurred during the current plan year before December 31, 2024. After the 90 days, the remaining dollars will move to Medcom for access through your Medcom account.
- ◆ Short Term Disability: Standard is allowing everyone to enroll in the Buy-up STD again this year only without answering any health questions as an exception. Next year if you want to enroll, you will need to submit the health questionnaire for approval if you are a late entrant. Benefits are offset by receipt of other income, including Parental Leave.

Post Tax Benefits added 1/1/24: (employee-paid)

- Legal Insurance
- Pet insurance
- Accident coverage
- Critical Illness coverage

We are committed to providing you with the best possible benefits, and our plans are designed to enhance your overall well-being. If you have any questions or need assistance, please don't hesitate to reach out to our dedicated team.

Thank you for being a valued part of the Jacksonville University community. We look forward to this exciting new chapter in our benefits program.

Allana and Fonnle.

President's Message: Employee Hotline

Employee Hotline

TO: JU Employees, Faculty and Staff
FROM: President Tim Cost
RE: Employee Hotline

We are pleased to have available an Employee Hotline for any employee wishing to anonymously or confidentially report any serious suspected violation of our standards of conduct, policies, or applicable laws and regulations.

Many employers have implemented such processes over the last few years, and we believe it can help JU with workplace safety, regulatory issues, financial management, ethical behavior, and conflicts of interest. It provides an additional channel of communication that some people find more comfortable.

The Hotline is not meant to replace our existing resources, but rather to supplement them. I encourage anyone wishing to report or discuss a situation to talk with supervisors or our Office of People and Culture. If for any reason anyone would rather address an issue in an anonymous manner, I strongly suggest taking advantage of the Employee Hotline.

The Hotline is toll free and available to you 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. It is operated on our behalf by Navex Global Ethicspoint, an independent firm. The Hotline number is 1-844-965-3531. To access online, <https://ju.ethicspoint.com>

You do not need to identify yourself by name when you phone the Hotline. If you choose to give your name, we will keep that information confidential unless, as in the case of certain crimes, a law requires that any name you supply be provided to enforcement officials or a court. We absolutely will not allow any retribution or retaliation against an employee who reports a compliance issue in good faith.

If you have any general questions about this new service, feel free to contact the Office of People and Culture at extension 7025. I look forward to your help in continuing the success of the University and our compliance program.

Thank you.

Making Your Benefits Choices

Most employee benefit coverage's allow you to choose the options and plans that work best for you and your family. Choose your benefits carefully. Consider your needs, the needs of your family, and how much you can realistically afford to spend.

Are You an Eligible Employee?

You are eligible to participate in our benefits the first of the month following 30 days of continuous employment provided you are a regular full time employee and working 30 hours or more per week.

Pre-existing Condition Limitations

Under the Affordable Care Act, you will not be subjected to a pre-existing condition limitations, the health insurance companies can't refuse to cover you or charge you more just because you have a pre-existing condition. They also can't charge women more than men. These rules went into effect for plan years beginning on or after January 1, 2014.

Pre-Tax or Post Tax?

Some benefits allow you to deduct premiums from your paycheck using pre-tax dollars. This lowers the amount of your gross pay used to calculate Federal Income Tax. With pre-tax dollars, your net (take home) pay is more than if you paid using post-tax dollars.

Other benefits require that you use post-tax dollars to pay premiums. This means that premiums are deducted after Federal Taxes have been calculated and deducted from you gross pay.

It is important to note that benefits deducted pre-tax are subject to IRS regulations. This means you cannot make changes to your benefits unless you do so at open enrollment or if you experience a Qualified Event, as referenced in the Special Enrollment Rights section.

Special Enrollment Rights

During your initial enrollment period (first 30 days of hire date) you decide not to elect coverage, you must wait until the next open enrollment period or until you experience a “qualifying event” which results in a change in your family status. If you experience a qualifying event during the plan year, you have the opportunity to add, change or terminate coverage for yourself and/or your dependents. The Office of People and Culture and the insurance carriers must receive your elections within 30 days of the qualifying event date. You may only withdraw or cancel your election change as long as you do so prior to the coverage effective date.

A “qualifying event” includes (but is not limited to):

- Marriage or divorce
- Birth, adoption, placement for adoption, or legal custody of an eligible dependent
- Death of a spouse or child
- Dependent child covered by the plan becomes ineligible
- Significant change in your spouse’s coverage
- Change in residence or worksite if it affects the health coverage
- Increase or decrease in hours worked
- Termination or commencement of benefits through another employer

Common Insurance Terms

- Copay: Flat fee for expenses to be paid at the time you receive services
- Calendar Year Deductible (CYD): The amount of money you pay for services (discounted In-Network) before the carrier will share in your covered expenses. (Jacksonville University’s deductibles start over every January 1st.)
- Traditional Family Deductible: This family deductible requires that the individual deductible be met before coinsurance applies to that individual covered family member. Once the total family deductible is met, then coinsurance applies to all covered family members.
- Collective Family Deductible: This family deductible requires that the entire family deductible be met before coinsurance applies to any covered member. This can be satisfied by any one or combination of covered family members.
- Coinsurance: After the deductible has been satisfied, coinsurance is the percentage split of expenses between you and the insurance carrier.
- Out-of-Pocket Maximum: The maximum amount of deductible and coinsurance that you or your family will have to pay “out-of-pocket” for the rest of the year. Once this is met, the carrier will pick up 100% of eligible expenses. Please note that some plans require you to continue to pay copays (including Rx) even after meeting this maximum.
 - In and Out-of-Network benefits have separate deductibles, coinsurance and out-of-pocket maximums. To get the most benefit from your plan, utilize In-Network providers and facilities.
 - Deductibles and Out-of-Pocket maximums start over every Calendar Year.

What You Need to Do NOW

1. Review your benefits
2. Decide which benefits work for you and/or your family
3. If adding dependents, make sure you have their social security numbers and dates of birth

Tips for Visiting Your Provider

Choose an In-Network Provider.
Always present your ID card.
Compare your Florida Blue Health Statement against the provider invoice before paying for claims.

Did You Know?

Most Urgent Care Centers and Convenient Care Clinics are open 7 days a week with extended hours. These visits cost you less than visiting an emergency room. These centers are great options when you can't get in to see your doctor for non-life threatening services.

Online Access

Did you know that you have access to MyBlueService offered through Florida Blue?

This site allows you to review your plan benefits, find an In-Network doctor or hospital, shop and compare cost estimates for provider services, compare drug prices, view claim activity, create a personal health record, access your monthly health statement, print a temporary ID card or request a new card, take a personal health assessment, review lifestyle improvement programs, research information on WebMD®, and check out health-related member discounts.

Got a Smartphone? Visit bcbsfl.com using your browser or visit your favorite app store for the Florida Blue App.

Lab Services

The ONLY network lab for Florida Blue is Quest Diagnostics. To save you time in line, make sure to visit www.questdiagnostics.com to schedule an appointment with a lab near you.

Care Consultants

Care Consultants offer free advice and support to help your health needs and control your total costs. They can compare pricing for upcoming procedures, tests, or surgeries to find the best price and location for you. They assist with critical decisions, education for chronic conditions and more. Please call (888) 476-2227 to speak to a consultant today.

Mail Order

Don't forget, signing up for mail order on your maintenance medications can save you time and money! Ask your physician for a 90-day supply of your maintenance medications and once enrolled, these medications will be mailed directly to your home. Some pharmacies can fill a 90 day supply script.

Money Saving Tips

- Use urgent care instead of the emergency room for non-life threatening services
- Use convenient care clinics (Walgreens & CVS) instead of urgent care
- Ask your physician and/or specialist for drug samples for new or current prescriptions
- Shop around using tools on www.bcbsfl.com to determine which pharmacy has your prescriptions for less. Prices do vary by participating pharmacies as well as zip code
- Check your pharmacy regarding current drug discount programs that might save you more than using insurance
- Check to see if generic alternatives are available for your prescriptions through MyBlueService
- Know which pharmacies offer free antibiotics
- Visit the website of the manufacturer of your prescriptions for possible coupons and/or discount cards

Tuition benefits will be granted to eligible Regular Full-time employees after 90 days of service. The tuition benefits are available to employees and members of their immediate family, except when such family member in his/her own right is eligible or receives cash awards for tuition costs from sources outside the University. Any employee applying for the JU Tuition Benefit for their own use or for their dependent, who would otherwise be eligible to receive a merit scholarship, will be unable to use both the merit scholarship and employee tuition benefits; the merit scholarship will be cancelled in favor of the tuition benefit. In addition, any employee applying for the JU Tuition Benefit for their own use or for their dependent, who would otherwise be eligible to receive FRAG (The Florida Resident Access Grant), must file a current year FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) to be eligible to receive the JU Tuition Benefit. Failure to file the FAFSA may prevent you from receiving this benefit. Immediate family includes the spouse, domestic partner and unmarried biological dependent children, legally adopted children and step-children. The dependent child must be 25 years of age or under, and residing in the home of the employee. If an application is made for a domestic partner, please see the Office of People and Culture for the required forms.

Tuition benefits for graduate programs provided to a dependent of an employee are taxable at the full tuition rate charged. As the tax provision may change as required by law, please contact your personal tax advisor for additional information. Contact the Office of People and Culture for further details.

Application Process

All recipients of tuition benefits must meet the usual admission and scholastic standards. Once accepted, a standard University tuition benefits application form, available in the Office of People and Culture, must be completed and returned to the Office of People and Culture at least thirty (30) days prior to registration.

Release Time

“Release Time” is the allowance, by the appropriate supervisor, of the employee to attend courses during the normal operating hours while compensation continues on an hourly or salaried basis. Supervisors may release employees a maximum of three (3) hours per week to complete courses that are directly related to the performance of the job of the employee. This is contingent upon the written recommendation of the supervisor and the Dean of the school/college, or head of the administrative organization. The release time provision is designed to support job related personal development. The University encourages participation in the professional development of its staff through the educational opportunities of the Tuition Benefits Plan, but this must be accomplished within the primary goal of the efficient performance of the individual employee's task within their department.

Work Schedule

Supervisors may rearrange the schedules of employees, without “release time,” to accommodate a class schedule if this does not interfere with the satisfactory performance of the job. Such changes must be recommended, in writing, by the supervisor and by the dean of the college/school, or head of the administrative organization.

Note: Please refer to the Employee's Handbook for additional information.

FMLA (Family and Medical Leave Act)

Eligible Employees

Employees of the University who have worked for the University for at least 12 months and have worked at least 1,250 hours during that time may request a Family Medical Leave to a total of 12 workweeks of leave during any 12-month period when leave is taken for one or more of the following circumstances.

- The birth of a son or daughter of an employee and to care for the child;
- The placement of a son or daughter with an employee for adoption or foster care;
- To care for the spouse, son, daughter, or parent of an employee, if the family member has a serious health condition; or
- The employee is unable to perform the functions of the position because of the employee's own serious health condition;
- To care for a covered service member with a serious injury or illness;
- A qualifying exigency arising out of the fact that the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent is a covered military member on active duty (or has been notified of an impending call or order to active duty) in support of a contingency operation.

A "serious health condition" is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves: (a) inpatient care, meaning an overnight stay at a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility; or (b) involves continuing treatment by a health care provider.

In the case of the birth or placement of a child for adoption or foster care, employees who wish to take leave must do so within 12 months of the date of the birth or placement of the child. Where both spouses work for the University, their total leave in any 12-month period is limited to 12 weeks, if leave is taken (1) for the birth or adoption of a child; or (2) to care for a sick parent. The "12-month period" during which Family Medical Leave may be taken, is the period beginning 12 months from the start date of the requested leave.

Intermittent or Reduced Schedule Leave

When medically necessary, intermittent or reduced schedule leave can be taken in cases of a serious health condition, either an employee's own, to care for a parent, son, or daughter with a serious health condition, or to care for a covered service member with a serious injury or illness. Intermittent or reduced leave schedule is not available for the birth or placement of a son or daughter. Employees seeking intermittent or reduced schedule leave based on planned medical treatment are required to produce medical certification outlining the dates on which treatment is expected and the duration of the treatment. Employees are expected to make a reasonable effort, subject to the health care provider's approval, to schedule treatment so as to not unduly disrupt the University's operations. Employees are also required to give the University, through the Office of People and Culture, thirty (30) days' notice or as much notice as is practicable of their intentions. In the event an employee requests intermittent or reduced schedule leave that is foreseeable and due to a family member's or the employee's own serious health condition, the employee may be transferred by the University to a temporary alternative job for which the employee is qualified and which better accommodates the University's needs and that of the employee.

Highlights of the 2009 Military Family Leave:

Military Caregiver Leave: The first of these new military family leave entitlements, eligible employees who are family members of covered service members will be able to take up to 26 workweeks of leave in a "single 12-month period" to care for a covered service member with a serious illness or injury incurred in the line of duty on active duty. Eligible employees include the spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next of kin of a covered service member.

Qualifying Exigency Leave: The second new military leave entitlement provides eligible employees who are family members of any current member of the Armed Forces, including member of the National Guard or Reserves, or a member of the Armed Forces, National Guard, or Reserves who is on the temporary disability retired list up to 12 workweeks of leave during any 12 month period for one or more qualifying exigencies. Qualifying exigencies include such things as: (a) short-notice deployment; (b) military events and related activities; (c) childcare and school activities; (d) financial and legal arrangements; (e) counseling; (f) rest and recuperation; (g) post-deployment activities; and (h) additional activities not encompassed in the other categories but agreed to by the employer and employee.

Miscellaneous Benefits

Notice

When leave is foreseeable, employees must follow the University's usual and customary call-in procedures for reporting an absence, absent unusual circumstances. Supervisors need to report these leaves to the Office of People and Culture as soon as possible. The following is the current, expected notice: A minimum of thirty (30) days advance notice of an employee's intent to take leave is required when it is foreseeable because of:

1. The expected birth of a baby;
2. The expected placement of a child for adoption or foster care;
3. Planned medical treatment for a son, daughter, spouse, or parent with a serious health condition; or
4. Planned medical treatment in case of the employee's own serious health condition;
5. Planned medical treatment for a serious injury or illness of a covered service member.

If leave has to begin in less than thirty (30) days as a result of one of the above-referenced circumstances, the employee still must provide the University, through the Office of People and Culture, with as much advance notice as is practicable. Such notice should be in writing, but may be given orally when circumstances so require. Employees are requested to confirm oral notice in writing. Notice must be provided in writing to the Office of People and Culture of the University. When notice is not given in these circumstances, the employee will be considered to have taken "unauthorized leave" and subjected to appropriate disciplinary action. Within five days of the time the University learns of the request for FMLA leave, it will provide the employee with an eligibility notice, which will inform the employee as to whether the general FMLA eligibility requirements have been met. Once the University has enough information to determine whether a particular leave qualifies for FMLA leave, the University will, within five business days, provide the employee with a designation notice, which will state that the FMLA leave has been granted and will identify the number of hours, days, or weeks that will count against the FMLA entitlement.

Certification

When leave is requested based on a family member's or employee's own serious health condition, the employee must provide, in writing, a medical certification of the condition and the need for leave from the employee's health care provider within fifteen (15) days of the written request for leave. "Health care provider" includes physician's assistant. The certification must contain:

- The name, address, telephone number, and fax number of the health care provider and type of medical practice/specialization;
- The approximate date on which the serious health condition began;
- A statement or description of appropriate medical facts regarding the patient's health condition for which FMLA leave is requested. The medical facts must be sufficient to support the need for leave.
- If the employee is the patient, information sufficient to establish that the employee cannot perform the essential functions of the employee's job as well as the nature of any other work restrictions, and the likely duration of such inability;
- If the patient is a covered family member with a serious health condition, information sufficient to establish that the family member is in need of care and an estimate of the frequency and duration of the leave required to care for the family member;
- If an employee requests leave on an intermittent or reduced schedule basis for planned medical treatment of the employee's or a covered family member's serious health condition, information to establish the medical necessity for such intermittent or reduced schedule leave and an estimate of the dates and duration of such treatments and any periods of recovery;
- If an employee requests leave on an intermittent or reduced schedule basis for the employee's serious health condition, including pregnancy, that may result in unforeseeable episodes of incapacity, information sufficient to establish medical necessity for such intermittent or reduced schedule leave and an estimate of the frequency and duration of the episodes of incapacity; and
- If an employee requests leave on an intermittent or reduced schedule basis to care for a covered family member with a serious health condition, a statement that such leave is medically necessary to care for the family member and an estimate of the frequency and duration of the required leave.

After an employee submits a complete and sufficient medical certification, the University may contact the employee's health care provider for purposes of clarification and authentication of the medical certification. Pursuant to HIPAA privacy rules, such contacts may only be initiated by a health care provider, Office of People and Culture professional, leave administrator, or management official, but not by the employee's direct supervisor. This certification will be treated as a confidential medical record and information will be disclosed only on a strictly need-to-know basis.

The University may, at its expense, require second and third medical opinions regarding a serious health condition.

Miscellaneous Benefits

Use of Paid Leave

Paid leave can be elected as follows: 1) The University requires that available paid leave be used for all or a portion of FMLA leave; 2) Employees must advise the University of the purpose of any paid leave request so that an FMLA designation may be made in a timely fashion in the appropriate case.

Recertification

An employee who has taken leave because of a serious health condition or that of a family member is required by the University to obtain subsequent written recertification of the medical condition every thirty (30) days unless the original certification stated that the condition would last longer than thirty (30) days in which case the recertification is required at the time the stated duration has expired. The University also requires employees on leave under this provision to report periodically, in writing, every thirty (30) days on his or her status and the intention of the employee return to work.

Restored Employment

Eligible employees who comply with all provisions of this Policy and who return from FMLA leave have the right to return to the position that they held when they went on leave, or they may be placed, at the discretion of the University, in an equivalent position with equivalent benefits, pay, and other terms and conditions of employment. While on leave, eligible employees will retain all eligible benefits.

Restored employees, eligible employees returning from FMLA leave, are not entitled to accrue employment other than any to which they would have been entitled had they not taken the leave. As a condition to restoring an employee whose leave was based on the employee's own serious health condition, each returning employee is required to provide, in writing, to the Office of People of Culture a certification from the employee's health provider stating that the employee is able to perform the essential functions of the employee's job. Where reasonable job safety concerns exist, the University may also require a fitness-for-duty certification before an employee may return to work when the employee takes intermittent leave.

Maintenance of Benefits

The University will maintain group health plan coverage for employees on FMLA leave for the duration of the eligible employee's leave. Coverage will be provided on the same level and under the same conditions that coverage would have been provided if no leave had been taken. In the event an employee fails to return to work after the period of leave expires, the University may recover any premiums the University paid for coverage during the leave period. Such recovery can be taken from any benefits or wages owed by the University to the employee.

In the event, however, that the employee fails to return to work due to the continuation, recurrence or onset of a serious health condition of a family member or that would otherwise entitle the employee to take leave, or due to other circumstances beyond the control of the employee, the University will not attempt to recover such premiums. In this circumstance, the employee is required to provide, in writing to the Office of People and Culture, a certification from the employee's health care provider to that effect.

Schedule of Holidays

The University designates certain days as holidays during the year. Paid holidays are limited to full-time and part-time employees with Regular status and are paid only if the holiday occurs during a period of time the employee is normally scheduled to work and the employee is in a paid status.

If the employee works a part-time regularly scheduled work week, salary will be paid on a pro-rated basis receiving the number of hours that is normally worked per day. In those University facilities where it is necessary, certain employees may be required to work on holidays. If the employee is a non-exempt staff member and scheduled to work on a holiday, compensation will be at double-time for actual hours worked on the holiday. Employees who are on leave without pay will not be paid for holidays.

The following holidays are generally observed during the academic year:

- Labor Day
- Veterans Day
- The day before Thanksgiving
- Thanksgiving Day
- Friday after Thanksgiving
- Holiday break (specified annually to accommodate calendar variances)
- New Year's Day
- Martin Luther King Day
- Spring Break (specified annually to accommodate calendar variances)
- Memorial Day
- Juneteenth
- Independence Day

The University reserves the right to alter the holiday schedule from year to year. A University Bulletin will be sent to all employees every year providing the specific holiday schedule.

Important Notice About Your Prescription Drug Coverage and Medicare

For Individuals Eligible for Medicare

Please read this notice carefully and keep it where you can find it. This notice has information about your current prescription drug coverage with Florida Blue and about your options under Medicare's prescription drug coverage. This information can help you decide whether or not you want to join a Medicare drug plan.

If you are considering joining, you should compare your current coverage, including which drugs are covered at what cost, with the coverage and costs of the plans offering Medicare prescription drug coverage in your area. Information about where you can get help to make decisions about your prescription drug coverage is at the end of this notice.

There are two important things you need to know about your current coverage and Medicare's prescription drug coverage:

Medicare prescription drug coverage became available in 2006 to everyone with Medicare. You can get this coverage if you join a Medicare Prescription Drug Plan or join a Medicare Advantage Plan (like an HMO or PPO) that offers prescription drug coverage. All Medicare drug plans provide at least a standard level of coverage set by Medicare. Some plans may also offer more coverage for a higher monthly premium. Jacksonville University has determined that the prescription drug coverage offered by the BCBSFL medical plans (Plan names: PPO 03559, HMO 60 and HDHP 03160/03161), on average for all plan participants, are expected to pay out as much as standard Medicare prescription drug coverage pays and is therefore considered Creditable Coverage. If your existing coverage is Creditable Coverage (Plan 60, 03559 or 03160/03161), you can keep this coverage and not pay a higher premium (a penalty) if you later decide to join a Medicare drug plan. If it is not Creditable, you could keep this coverage, but you would pay a higher premium (penalty) if you decide later to join a Medicare drug plan.

When Can You Join a Medicare Drug Plan?

You can join a Medicare drug plan when you first become eligible for Medicare and each year from October 15th through December 7th. However, if you lose your current creditable prescription drug coverage, through no fault of your own, you will also be eligible for a two (2) month Special Enrollment Period (SEP) to join a Medicare drug plan.

What Happens to Your Current Coverage if You Decide to Join a Medicare Drug Plan?

If you decide to join a Medicare drug plan, your current BCBSFL coverage will not be affected. You may keep your Jacksonville University coverage and BCBSFL will coordinate with Part D prescription coverage, while still providing you with all your current health coverage. If you decide to drop your current Jacksonville University coverage, be aware that your dependents will also be dropping your health coverage. You may elect to rejoin the Jacksonville University Plan during the next Open Enrollment period.

You are not required to join a Medicare drug plan. You can choose to retain your existing coverage through Jacksonville University and not enroll in a Medicare drug plan at this time. There will not be a penalty for joining later provided you are covered under the Jacksonville University Plan PPO 3559, HMO 41 or HDHP 3160/3161 and that you elect Medicare drug plan within 63 days of losing coverage.

Important Notices

If you would like more information about the prescription drug plan provisions and options that Medicare eligible individuals may have when they become eligible for Medicare prescription drug coverage, see pages 7-9 of the CMS Disclosure of Creditable Coverage to Medicare Part D Eligible Individuals Guidance located at <http://www.cms.hhs.gov/CreditableCoverage>.

When Will You Pay a Higher Premium (Penalty) to Join a Medicare Drug Plan?

You should also know that if you drop or lose your current coverage with Jacksonville University and don't join a Medicare drug plan within 63 continuous days after your current coverage ends, you may pay a higher premium (a penalty) to join a Medicare drug plan later.

If you go 63 continuous days or longer without creditable prescription drug coverage, your monthly premium may go up by at least 1% of the Medicare base beneficiary premium per month for every month that you did not have that coverage. For example, if you go nineteen months without creditable coverage, your premium may consistently be at least 19% higher than the Medicare base beneficiary premium. You may have to pay this higher premium (a penalty) as long as you have Medicare prescription drug coverage. In addition, you may have to wait until the following October to join.

REMEMBER: Keep this Creditable Coverage notice. If you decide to join one of the Medicare drug plans, you may be required to provide a copy of this notice when you join to show whether or not you have maintained creditable coverage and, therefore, whether or not you are required to pay a higher premium (a penalty).

For More Information About Your Options Under Medicare Prescription Drug Coverage...

COBRA Continuation Coverage Rights through

COBRA continuation coverage is a temporary continuation of coverage. When the qualifying event is the death of the employee, the employee's becoming entitled to Medicare benefits (under Part A, Part B, or both), your divorce or legal separation, or a dependent child's losing eligibility as a dependent child, COBRA continuation coverage lasts for up to a total of 36 months. When the qualifying event is the end of employment or reduction of the employee's hours of employment, and the employee became entitled to Medicare benefits less than 18 months before the qualifying event, COBRA continuation coverage for qualified beneficiaries other than the employee lasts until 36 months after the date of Medicare entitlement. For example, if a covered employee becomes entitled to Medicare 8 months before the date on which his employment terminates, COBRA continuation coverage for his spouse and children can last up to 36 months after the date of Medicare entitlement, which is equal to 28 months after the date of the qualifying event (36 months minus 8 months). Otherwise, when the qualifying event is the end of employment or reduction of the employee's hours of employment, COBRA continuation coverage generally lasts for only up to a total of 18 months.

Keep Your Plan Informed of Address Changes

In order to protect your family's rights, you should keep the Plan Administrator informed of any changes in the addresses of family members. You should also keep a copy, for your records, of any notices you send to the Plan Administrator.

HIPAA—Continuation of Coverage

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) helps protect your rights to medical coverage during events such as changing or losing jobs, pregnancy and childbirth, or divorce. Depending upon your group health plan limitations, HIPAA may also make it possible for you to get and keep medical coverage even if you have past or present (pre-existing) medical conditions. If you were covered under a medical plan, you will receive a certificate of creditable coverage upon termination.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) - Privacy Act Legislation

Jacksonville University and Florida Blue are obligated to protect your confidential protected health information (PHI) that identifies you or could be used to identify you and relates to a physical or mental health condition or the payment of your health care expenses. Newborns' and Mothers' Health Protection Act

Group health plans and health insurance issuers generally may not, under Federal law, restrict benefits for any hospital length of stay in connection with childbirth for the mother or newborn child to less than 48 hours following a vaginal delivery, or less than 96 hours following a cesarean section.

However, Federal law generally does not prohibit the mother's or newborn's attending provider, after consulting with the mother, from discharging the mother or her newborn earlier than 48 hours (or 96 hours as applicable). In any case, plans and insurers may not, under Federal law, require that a provider obtain authorization from the plan or the insurance issuer for prescribing a length of stay not in excess of 48 hours (or 96 hours).

Medicaid & Children's Health Insurance (CHIP)

If you are eligible for health coverage from your employer but are unable to afford the premiums, some States have premium assistance programs that can help pay for coverage. These States use funds from their Medicaid or CHIP programs to help people who are eligible for employer-sponsored health coverage, but need assistance in paying their health premiums.

If you or your dependents are already enrolled in Florida Medicaid or CHIP, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office to find out if premium assistance is available.

If you or your dependents are NOT currently enrolled in Medicaid or CHIP, and you think you or any of your dependents might be eligible for either of these programs, you can contact your State Medicaid or CHIP office or dial 1-877-KIDS NOW or www.insurekidsnow.gov to find out how to apply. If you qualify, you can ask the State if it has a program that might help you pay the premiums for an employer-sponsored plan.

Once it is determined that you or your dependents are eligible for premium assistance under Medicaid or CHIP, your employer's health plan is required to permit you and your dependents to enroll in the plan — as long as you and your dependents are eligible, but not already enrolled in the employer's plan. This is called a "special enrollment" opportunity, and you must request coverage within 60 days of being determined eligible for premium assistance.

For further information on eligibility, please contact your state, the U.S. Department of Labor, or U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services.
